Introduction

- Today we are going to learn more about paper folding theater.
- Please watch the video.
- What did you find?
- Origami is combined by two Japanese words.
- Now please remember to make a story with your folding paper.
- You can use who, what, but and finally as the story's branches.

Feedback

- The students would rather fold their paper than make a story because they can't image a story.
- Teachers have to help the students making their story longer, especially use “but” in their story.
